Culture for sustained and increased mobility

1. For teachers (20%)

Building culture for international network and increased teacher mobility

2. For students (50%)

Building culture for increased student mobility

But how?

- Visualize relevance, by the study program and information about the program
- Visualize the goals through information about exchange before start of the studies
- Involve students by sharing documentation from exchange and experience in international practices
- Teachers can motivate students to participate in mobility measures through the whole study program
- Create meeting places where the students with international experience can share with the other students (in class or through other forums) for instance Global Lounge.
- Have a dialog with the reference group for each study program and get suggestions for measures to gain international practices and theoretical topics.
